

Crisis Technology Experimentation Workshop:
ACRIMAS Pilot Case
1st JRC Crisis Technology Workshop on
Mobile Interoperability for Crisis Management
12th –13th March, JRC Ispra
- Registration Instructions -

All participants will need to register by 16th February using the JRC online tool:

<https://jrc-meeting-registration.jrc.ec.europa.eu>

Please create your own account, fill in your data and choose Ispra, March 2012 and Crisis Technology Experimentation Workshop: ACRIMAS Pilot Case and 1st JRC Crisis Technology. Please also indicate your transport and accommodation needs.

Transport:

JRC will provide the bus service for the arrivals from the Malpensa airport on 11th March between 17:00 and 19:00 and for the departures on 13th March after the meeting. Eventual different arrangement will be established after the closure of the registration once the travel details of all the participants will be known. For participants arriving much earlier or much later than the time indicated, if JRC will not be able to provide a transportation service, public transport is available (public taxi, yellow cabs – don't use unofficial taxis) at a cost of about 60-70 Euro.

During the days of the meeting the JRC bus will be provided from the hotels to the meeting place and back.

If needed, the JRC taxi service can pick you up at and bring you to the train stations in:

- Sesto Calende
- Arona
- Lugano
- Milan Central Station

Please note that our taxi service does not serve Milano-Bergamo (BGY). Thus, it is suggested to rather fly to Malpensa (MXP) or Linate (LIN).

Accommodation:

We have made reservations in few hotels close to the JRC site on your behalf; please choose your preferred hotel while registering. Please note that during the meeting, the JRC bus will be provided only from/to the hotels indicated in the system. Should you decide to choose a different hotel, you may need to organise the transportation yourself.

Important. You can update your registration details at any time within the deadline. Registration after the deadline will not be possible.

Should you have any questions concerning the registration system, transport service and hotels, please contact our secretary Lina Saltenyte, via email: lina.saltenyte@ec.europa.eu
